Re: Italian Scientific Committee (UK NEQAS for Blood Transfusion Laboratory Practice)

Dear Participant,

We would like to inform you that there is an Italian Scientific Committee for UK NEQAS for Blood Transfusion Laboratory Practice. The main reference person for this committee is Dott. Francesco Bennardello from Ragusa. Dr Bennardello is an influential member of SIMTI and has published several transfusion related manuals and guidelines.

We think this will be a great help to participants, especially in the initial phase, when people have to familiarize themselves with the technical requirements of an accredited EQA programme.

Dott. Bennardello will be able to provide advice regarding scientific and technical problems arising from participation in the Scheme, directly to participants; in addition, he will be able to contact the Scheme on behalf of participants regarding any aspect of participation. We thank Dott. Bennardello for his support of our EQA programme.
